I Dependent recognition criteria & scope

Typically, family members under the age of 75 who are financially supported by the Insured person's income can receive health insurance coverage.

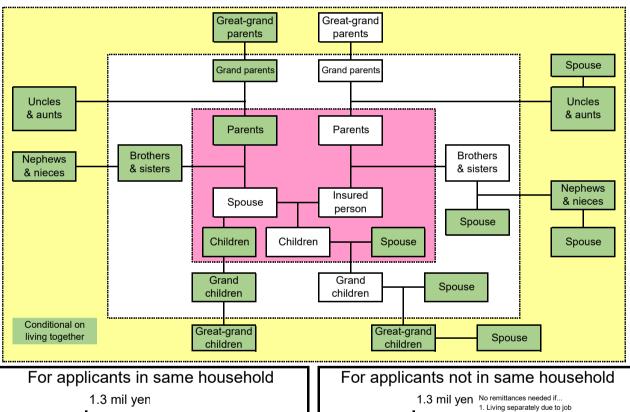

With health insurance, a "dependent" can receive insurance benefits in the case of illness, injury, delivering a child or death. Furthermore, those aged 40 and over can receive special health checkups (metabolic syndrome screening).

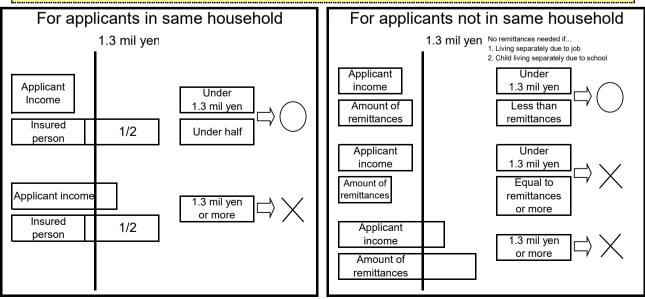

Primary Recognition Criteria

Typically, the applicant must be financially supported by the insured person's income. Recognition will be determined according to the following criteria.

- (1) Under the age of 75 (except for those eligible for the medical care system for people aged 75 and over)
- (2) If under the age of 60, have an annual income of less than 1.3 mil yen (about 108,000 yen/mth)
- (3) If aged 60+ or claiming a disability pension benefits, have an annual income of less than 1.8 mil yen (less than 150.000 ven/mth)
- (4) If living with the insured person, then an annual income that is less than half that of the insured person's income
- (5) If living separately from the insured person, then an annual income that is less than the amount received in remittances from the insured person. (Remittances must be sent monthly.)
- (6) If the applicant is married, then the couple's total combined annual income must be less than the criteria in either (2) or (3) above as well as less than the insured person's income.
- (7) The insured person's income must be the largest. (in the case of dual income, etc.)

II Examples of documents required for dependent recognition

^{*} If the applicant is aged 60+ or claims a disability pension benefit, etc. (class 3 or higher), "1.3 mil yen" in the chart becomes "1.8 mil yen."
